

The military has a wide range of departments and resources which can provide personal and spiritual assistance to individual service members and their families. Most military installations have Family Centers, which provide information, life-skills education, and support services. One of the primary functions of the Family Center is to link customers with appropriate services available in the local community or through state and federal assistance programs. This page is designed to help members of the Armed Forces and their families combine the resources found at these centers with information on all the benefits available to servicemembers.
